

And then one day... they hatched!

Agnes waved as the babies floated away—forever. Quickly, she scribbled them one last postcard.

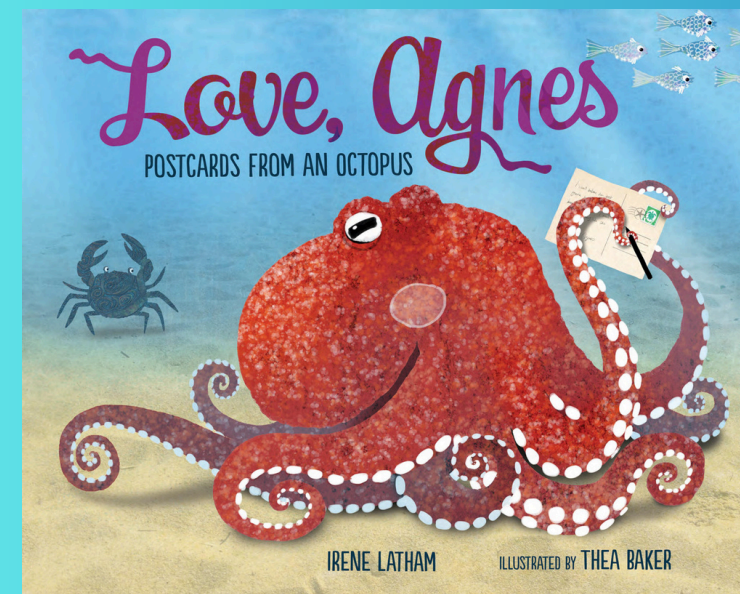

Dear Beautiful Babies,
Watch out for crabs! And other octopuses. (Some of them think they are SO SMART.) If you find the perfect home, make sure it's empty before you move in. And then? Hunt. Sleep. Swim! Remember: You are the reason for everything.
Love,
Agnes

My Beautiful Babies

Pacific Ocean

California

Love, Agnes: Postcards From an Octopus

BY IRENE LATHAM
ILLUSTRATED BY THEA BAKER