Happy book birthday to A GOOD MORNING FOR GIDDO!

01

“Good morning with roses and jasmine” is a greeting used in Egypt! Dahlia Hamza Constantine and I celebrate LANGUAGE & FAMILY & ART & SLOWING DOWN in our new picture book from Nancy Paulsen/ Penguin Random House, illus. by Basma Hosam, which releases TODAY. Hooray!

DISCOVER THE ONE WORD THAT APPEARED IN OUR MANUSCRIPT A

Fresh
Delicious: Poems from the Farmers' Market... in paperback!

Just in time for market season!
Entice young readers to love fruit, veggies, and the farmers who grow them with short, rich, imaginative poems!

Artemis II & The Museum on the Moon

03

Finally Artemis II is off the moon!
Celebrate with poems that showcase some of the unusual things that wait on the Moon's surface, like: a photograph, a falcon feather, a Bible!

Poetry for the win!

04

Celebrate National Poetry Month with SPORTS poems! Click the book cover to hear to me and Charles read poems about LeBron James (by JaNay Brown-Wood) and Eileen Gu (by Nancy Tupper Ling) on the Book Break podcast.

Some Starry Night

05

Thanks for your amazing support of this new book!! I've been so touched and overwhelmed by the response. I'll be back on release day (April 14) with the latest news –and a book giveaway!!

In other book-related news:

There's a new “pocket park” in Africatown!

Miss Fancy has received a glow-up! The small

Miss Fancy statue at Avondale Park has recently been outfitted with solar-powered lights and a fountain! Fun! Meanwhile, the Nelson Grice sculpture of Miss Fancy is wearing a pink tutu!

It's been one year since the release of If I Could Choose a Best Day. There's something here for every kind of reader...perfect for sharing during National Poetry Month (and beyond!).

You're Invited!

As always, thank you, thank you, thank you!
I'm so grateful for your support, and I'm honored to have this opportunity to share time with you.

With love—
